Don't Stop Tobacco.
HOW TO CURE YOURSELF WHILE USING IT.
The tobacco habit grows on a man until his nervous system is seriously affected, impairing health, comfort and happiness. To quit suddenly is to undergo a shock to the system, as tobacco is an inveterate user becomes a stimulant that his system continually craves. "Baco-Curo" is a scientific cure for the tobacco habit, in all its forms, carefully compounded after the formula of an eminent Berlin physician who has used it in his private practice since 1872, without a failure. It is purely vegetable and guaranteed perfectly harmless. You can use all the tobacco you want while taking "Baco-Curo." It will notify you when to stop. We give a written guarantee to cure permanently any case with three boxes, or refund the money with 10 per cent. interest. "Baco-Curo" is not a substitute, but a scientific cure, that cures without the aid of will power and with no inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from nicotine as the day you took your first whiff of smoke. Cured By Baco-Curo and gained thirty pounds.

From hundreds of testimonials, the originals of which are on file and open to inspection, the following is presented:
Clayton, Nevada Co., Ark., Jan. 28, '95.
Eureka Chemical & Mfg. Co., La. Crose, Wis.—Gentlemen: For forty years I used tobacco in all its forms. For twenty-five years of that time I was a great sufferer from general debility and heart disease. For fifteen years I tried to quit, but could not. I took various remedies, among others "No-To-Bac," "The Indian Tobacco Antidote," "Double Chloride of Gold," etc., etc., but none of them did me the least bit of good. Finally, however, I purchased a box of your "Baco-Curo" and it has entirely cured me of the habit in all its forms, and I have increased thirty pounds in weight and am relieved from all the numerous aches and pains of body and mind. I could write a quire of paper upon my changed feelings and conditions.
Yours respectfully, P. H. MARIHURY.

I heard of Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey for sale at the Store of Messrs. Gann, Burnett & Co's, Grantsburg, Ill., and meeting many commendations from different persons of its wonderful merits, I thought I would try a bottle. I have been seriously effected for 25 years with a cough and pains in my side and breast that were causing me a miserable life. I spent hundreds of dollars with doctors and for medicines, but everything failed until I tried this wonderful remedy. It beats the world and saved my life. I recommend Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey to everybody with weak lungs. It is a great success. J. B. ROSELL, May 20, 1895. Grantsburg Ill.

CLAYTON.
Editor, I see now that you are going to get tired of my foolish writing but I can't help it, for I am just bound to write some. Crops are looking well, considering the dry weather. I will say further I do hope the good people won't get mad at me for nominating good men that I would like to see elected. Now I have thought of some more good men that I think are qualified and are worthy of an

See. Now, I am going to repeat my selections. Now, I wish to nominate R. R. Wedding for County Judge, M. S. Ragland for County Court Clerk, Sam A. Anderson for Circuit Court Clerk, George W. Miller for Sheriff, E. P. Taylor for School Superintendent, R. C. Jarnagin for County Attorney and John W. Black for Jailor as re-nomination, and N. C. Daniel, as a re-nomination for Assessor. Now, I think I have done my part in nominating men for county offices, so I close on this subject, hoping some other good Republican may make a selection for officers, for this is important.

Little Mamie Nabors, daughter of J. M. Nabors, is very ill of whooping cough at this writing. Dr. A. R. Byers is still on the sick list.
So I will close by saying that ever voter in Ohio county ought to be taking the REPUBLICAN. Success to the paper.
Yours truly,
S. L. ST. CLAIR.

High Art in Literature.
It is certain that the future American creative writer will arise from the people—the flower of Free Thought—the child of intellect which has grown in a pure atmosphere. The literary successes of the present day are not, as a rule, aye, seldom, seldom are—college bred. Colleges are too often the homes of creeds and dogmas, and they breed repression and fear of offense by differing. High Art is never reached by repression. Repression is a growth of weeds in the brain fields and a stagnant pool that seeks not the sun. High Art in literature—representative literature—can better be likened to victory gained by wrestling with angels in perfect freedom. Education must be had, but it is the best that is gained in colleges? That is the question on which Bohemians have mocking ideas and make caustic utterances. [The Woman Bohemian, in The New Bohemian.]

Your Boy Won't Live a Month.
So Mr. Gilman Brown, of 34 Mill St., South Gardner, Mass., was told by the doctors. His son had Lung trouble, following Typhoid Malaria, and he spent three hundred and seventy-five dollars with doctors, who finally gave him up, saying: "Your boy won't live a month." He tried Dr. King's New Discovery and few bottles restored him to health and enabled him to go to work a perfectly well man. He says he owes his present good health to use of Dr. King's New Discovery, and knows it to be the best in the world for Lung trouble. Trials Bottles Free at Williams & Bell's Drug Store.

Obituary.
The subject of this sketch, Mrs. Rachel (Stevens) Tower, was born near Hartford, Ohio county, Ky., May 11, 1829, and died at her home near Laurel, Ind., Monday, February 24, 1896, being 66 years, 9 months and 13 days old.

She was united in marriage to Rev. N. F. Tower, near Hartford, Ky., April 17, 1850, by Rev. E. W. Caldwell. Unto this union were born four sons and three daughters. Two sons dying in infancy in Kentucky, and one daughter, Emma I. Tower, aged 24 years and 10 months, and well known in Franklin county, died at the same home December 10, 1881.

As also did the husband and father October 7, 1884. Two sons, two daughters and three grandchildren are left to mourn her loss.

The eldest daughter, Mrs. Jasper W. Roberts, is now living near Northville, Spink county, South Dakota, and could not be present at either her father's or mother's burial. Her eldest son, William W., is living at Guyneville, Ind. Her youngest daughter, Mrs. Cyron Alford, is still living at the old home; also the youngest son, E. P. Tower.

Her funeral services were conducted by Rev. Brown, assisted by Revs. Ward, Burke and Wines, and her remains were laid to rest in the Cuff Chapel Cemetery beside that of her husband and daughters.

It can be truly said that a faithful wife, affectionate mother and devoted christian has gone to her reward.

When Rev. F. N. Tower, full of love to God and the ministerial work, began his ministry on the Boonville circuit in Kentucky, he wooed and won the subject of this sketch for his wife, who entered into the spiritual work with a determination, will and energy, leaving father and mother, brothers and sisters, to go out into the world with her husband for the salvation of souls. Their labors in Kentucky were blessed with grand success for the master. Deeming it prudent, owing to the health of her husband to move to Indiana. They left their field of labor in Kentucky. The first point settled upon was Union Hall neighborhood in Ripley county, Bawltown. Her husband traveled and preached over that large circuit, reaching down unto Pipe creek, for one or two years, till in the fall of 1862 when he was sent to Delaware, Ind. At that place he preached at 9 different points. At the close of that conference year, in the fall of 1863 her companion superannated on the account of failing health. From Delaware she moved with her husband and family to New Pennington, Ind., from there to Smyrna, Ind., and from there to Blooming Grove, Ind., where they spent some seven years in business.

Again the truth dawned upon this aged couple that her companion was no longer physically able to attend to business that demanded his constant care and labor, so again she consented to make another move, the place being selected by her companion—three miles south-west of Laurel, Ind., in the neighborhood known as "Cracker Ridge." Although leaving many pleasant associations and their church that was so dear to them, they again cast their lot among strangers without a murmur or complaint from her, who stood by her companion through clouds and sunshine.

At this place, as in every other place they had lived, they soon found good friends who stood by them in sickness and in health—who, when death came, did not forsake them.

The breaking of a blood vessel caused her sudden death. As her daughter, Belle, sat on her bed by her side, she took her hand and looked up with a sweet smile and said: "I am not suffering any pain now. I will soon be in Glory—will soon see pa." Then she prayed an earnest prayer, full of love and devotion; first especially remembered her neighbors and neighbors children; then her friends far and near; then each of her own children, and last of all, to dying grace.

It is needless to say that everything was done for that medical skill and loving friends could do, but God said it is enough; come up higher. Her life had been one full of usefulness, and her charitable deeds were numerous. Her children and friends mourned but not as those who have no hope.—[A Friend, in the Laurel (Ind.) Review.]

H. C. TRUMAN,
A Short Sketch of a Worthy and Popular Gentleman.

H. C. TRUMAN.

Mr. H. C. Truman was born near the town of Fordsville, Ohio county, Ky., May 2, 1842. He is the eldest of two boys. He had three sisters, one sister, Mrs. Charles Huff, and his brother, Mr. Ed W. Truman are still living. Mr. Truman's parents were natives of Shelby county, Ky.

The subject of this short sketch was brought up on a farm at a day when the opportunities for an education were very limited. But learned as best he could, to spell, read and write. At the age of 18 years there were signs and omens of war to be heard on every hand. And at the first opportunity, October, 1861, having first consulted and obtained permission of his parents, he enlisted in Co., K., afterward transferred to Co., B., 17th Ky., Infantry to serve three years or during the war.

Mr. Truman served three years and three months, and was discharged with his Regiment, at Louisville Ky., January 23, 1865. He was engaged in several severe and hard contested fields of battle, some of which were Chickamauga, Mission Ridge, Ross-ville, Buzzard Roost Gap, and others. He was with his commander during that long march through Tennessee and Kentucky during the summer and fall of 1862, when Louisville was saved from plunder by the enemy.

Then on the march south again to Clarksville, Nashville, McMinnville to Chattanooga. Then on a forced march to the rescue of Gen. Burnside at Knoxville, and other long marches over the mountains and plains of East Tennessee. Back again to Ringgold, Ga., and the Georgia campaign. In an encampment at Allatoona Mountain he was severely shocked by the explosion of a shell. From this he has never fully recovered. This was in the month of May 1864.

After the war, he went to work again on the farm and attended the best schools to be found in the vicinity where he lived until he had sufficient knowledge to begin teaching.

In 1876 he was married to Miss Bettie A. Minckel, a very beautiful and accomplished lady of Breckenridge county, Ky. His companion lived but a few months.

Mr. Truman again returned to the school room in the county above named and remained in that county teaching some 10 years when he again returned to Ohio his native county, where he still teaches in that and adjoining counties.

In 1887 Mr. Truman entered Hartford College where he spent several months under the leadership of Professors Wayland Alexander and McHenry Rhoads.

Mr. Truman is a member of the Baptist church at Fordsville, Ky., and although a staunch Republican he has never offered himself as a candidate for any office before the people.

Mr. Truman is a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, and has been for several years past chaplain of his post.

It is said that a man who won't take a paper because he can borrow one, has invented a machine by which he can cook his dinner by the smoke from his neighbor's chimney. The same fellow sits in the back pew in church to save interest on his contribution, and is always borrowing a ride to town to save wear and tear on his horse flesh. Yes, we know him. He is a first cousin to the man who never winds up his watch for fear of breaking the spring. He is undoubtedly a near relative to the man who went in to the back-yard during the recent cold snap, soaked his hair in water, let freeze, and then broke it off in order to catch the barber out of a haircut.—[Ex.]

MCKINLEY.
Comrade of Grant and Sherman, Garfield, Logan, and Meade, And a silent host unnumbered. Where the uplands life to heaven, And the prairies roll like seas, With mines untold awaiting The wealth that labor reaps?

Along the war-racked border No armed foe awaits; The coast line fears no danger At all its thousand gates; No alien flag its colors Flutters o'er the whole broad land, For peace with her snowy banner Rules with a gentle hand.

Yet a foe is at each threshold, And storms each port and mart; His grip's on the throat of labor, His fear in every heart, His grasp is ever tightening, The Nation gasps for breath; Its life blood courses weaker, With stagnation worse than death.

Was ever a land that's fairer, Than this broad one of ours? That nature with had more lavish With greater gifts endowers? Where the uplands life to heaven, And the prairies roll like seas, With mines untold awaiting The wealth that labor reaps?

There's rest where should be turmoil, There's spindles, rust, and loom; Where forge fires should be roaring, There's silence, chill, and gloom; There's grass in pathways growing That lead to shop and mill, And wheels, in a waste of water, Rotting, moss-grown, and still!

There is need of a touch to waken The pulseless land to life: There is need of a hand to throttle The foe that makes this strife: On whom defeat ne'er weakened, A leader true and bold, To lead us back to the heights where—on He left us in days of old!

Comrade of Grant and Sherman, And a host of true and tried, The mantle of Lincoln and Garfield Thou mayest not put aside! The nation called unto them, And well they led the van: The place and the hour are waiting, And again it names the man. —[BY H. PARKER, Author of "Massa Linkum's Boy," Detroit, Mich.]

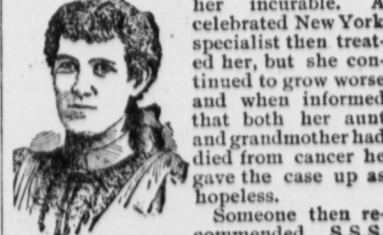

This testimonial is unsolicited and for the benefit of humanity. My daughter has been subject to severe colds and croup and often taken with violent coughing spells at night. Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey is the only preparation I have found that will relieve her. I think it is as necessary in the house-hold as a life preserver on a steamboat. Res'y,

In a recent speech in Nebraska, Senator John M. Thurston, eloquently answered the question, who is William McKinley? He said: "A soldier of the republic, a boy volunteer, knighted by his country's commission for conspicuous gallantry on desperate fields. When Sheridan, summoned by the rising roar of doubtful battle, rode madly down from Winchester and drew nigh to the shattered and retreating columns of his army, the first man he met to know was a young lieutenant, engaged in the heroic task of rallying and reforming the Union lines, ready for the coming of the master, whose presence and genius would wrest victory from defeat. That young lieutenant was a private in 1861, a major in 1866. The years that others gave to educational pursuit he gave to his country. His alma mater was the tended field."

Cancer
Of the Breast.
Mr. A. H. Crausby, of 158 Kerr St., Memphis, Tenn., says that his wife paid no attention to a small lump which appeared in her breast, but it soon developed into a cancer of the worst type, and notwithstanding the treatment of the best physicians, it continued to spread and grow rapidly, eating two holes in her breast. The doctors soon pronounced her incurable. A celebrated New York specialist then treated her, but she continued to grow worse and when informed that both her aunt and grandmother had died from cancer he gave the case up as hopeless. Someone then recommended S.S.S. She began it, and an improvement was noticed. The cancer commenced to heal and when she had taken several bottles it disappeared entirely, and although several years have elapsed, not a sign of the disease has ever returned.

ELECTION NOV. 3, 1896.

For Congress,
HON. JNO. W. LEWIS.

If you are owing us on subscription, please call and settle at ONCE. The tag on your paper will indicate how much you owe. Now, we are in earnest about this matter and MUST have money. We have made repeated appeals to some of you in regard to your accounts, but you have not responded. It takes money to pay our bills, and a few dollars from you will assist us very greatly. Please attend to this and let us hear from you without delay.

When Democratic papers raise a howl about Gov. Bradley's pardons, though they kept silence while Democratic Governors, were pardoning twice as many in the same time, they only show narrow partisanship and not any regard for the well-being of the State.

The state board of equalization has completed its work. The equalized assessment of property for taxation is $570,926,762; in 1895 it was $573,206,987. The amount of tax for 1896 will be $2,426,428.73; it was $2,436,129.66 in 1895. Exemptions in 1896 are $38,350,940; in 1895 they were $37,822,173.

We observe a disposition among some Democratic papers to gloat over the recent fire at the Eddyville prison, because they think it will embarrass the Republican administration. This shows their true worth and patriotism for their State. The fire was unfortunate, and we are glad to know that some Democrats condemn the idea of gloating over the accident.

The Congressional race is now on in the 4th District, and the Republican party has nominated one of the best men in the District to represent us in the House of Congress. Mr. Lewis has always been found at his post of duty, battling for the rights of his people, and now he comes seeking a re-election. He redeemed the District in 1894, and stands ready to carry the banner to victory in 1896. Republicans should organize and stand together in the coming fight.

GOV. BRADLEY'S PAR- DONS.

There is a great disposition among Democratic papers to abuse Gov. Bradley for using the pardoning power too freely. It is strange that these same sheets never said anything about Gov. Brown and Gov. Buckner's record for the first five months of their respective administrations. The records in the Governor's office show that he granted 127 pardons up to May 1. In the first five months of Gov. Buckner's term he granted 217 pardons, and during the first five months of Gov. Brown's term he pardoned 222 convicts. So you can readily see from the foregoing figures that Gov. Bradley's record in the pardoning business is much better than either of his predecessors. Now the Louisville Times starts the great cry about the Governor pardoning so many convicts and it is immediately taken up by the little one-horse papers throughout the State about the size of the Hartford Herald, who can't see any good in a Republican official. Such blunders as these papers are making is amusing to every fair-minded man. They do not try to report the facts about anything, but grab up every little thing they see floating around with the expectation of making political capital out of it. The people have become so accustomed to the lies of the Herald that they do not give much credit to what it says, and its great cry this week will fall flat upon its less scattering readers. If they are going to treat officials fair why is it they did not say anything about Gov. Brown and Gov. Buckner.

Tell the truth or forever hold your peace.

McKinley on Silver.

To relieve the distress of our Democratic neighbors, who are worried about the position of ex-Gov. McKinley upon the silver question, we publish the following extract from his speech during his campaign against ex-Gov. Campbell for Governor of Ohio:

"Unlike the opponent, I will not ask you to take any chances on this (money) question; I will clearly and unequivocally say to you that my voice and influence are in favor of the best money that the ingenuity of man has devised. The people are not prepared to indulge in the speculation of free and unlimited coinage."

And this from McKinley's speech in Congress:

"Whatever dollars we have in this country must be good dollars; good not by the fiat of law alone, but good because the whole commercial world recognizes their inherent and inextinguishable value."

As he very frankly and explicitly declares himself opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, the Democratic papers, by publishing the above extracts, might correct to some extent the effect of their past misrepresentations of McKinley's financial record.

Looking for Her

A rural gentleman from Ohio county, giving his name as Decker, was in the city yesterday and watched intently the main entrance of the Buffalo Bill combination for Mrs. Decker and her escort, whom Mr. Decker said was one Hatfield, and who, by his wiles, had some five days since induced Mrs. Decker to quit his bed and board and flee with him to this city. He had heard that Mrs. Decker and Mr. Hatfield were happily ensconced in an up-town boarding house, but he had been there and had failed to find them, and he was pretty sure that they would take in the Wild West.

Mr. Decker appealed to the police to aid him in the search for his trait wife, but at the close of the afternoon performance neither Mr. Hatfield nor Mrs. Decker had been sighted. What success followed the night search was not disclosed. But having heard of no blood-spilling through the night—Mr. Decker was blood thirsty—it is reasonable to suppose that the runaway couple were not caught. [Owensboro Messenger.]

Lost of the Lyons Quintuplets Dead.

MAYFIELD, KY., May 16.—The wonderful Lyons quintuplets, born to Mrs. Oscar Lyons, of this place, on the 29th of April, are all dead. The last one died yesterday.

Their deaths were very peculiar, and the cause cannot be explained by the physicians, unless caused by overwork by enormous crowds visiting them, which has been permitted since their birth. The first one died on May 4, and the others on the 11th, 12th, 13th and 14th. Each one of them died instantly and in a similar manner, giving a loud scream at the moment of death. They were fully developed, and for a while appeared to be in perfect health, but a day or two previous to their death they became very thin, as though they would dry up.

The bodies of the children have been embalmed, and will be kept on exhibition. The ones embalmed several days ago are in an excellent state of preservation, and no trouble is expected in preserving them by the process. The father and mother of the little wonders are terribly grieved by their loss, and grave fears are entertained that the mother cannot endure the grief, and that the result will be fatal.

FT. PLEASANT.

Mrs. Aaron Tichenor visited friends and relatives near South Carrollton last week and brought her little daughter home, who has been attending school there the past term.

ASAPH.

Thousands have tested the great building-up power of Hood's Sarsaparilla and have found renewed strength, vigor and vitality in its use.

Free Transportation.

The Louisville Post says:

Prof. Wayland Alexander, of Hartford, who it was thought would establish a school in Owensboro, has abandoned the idea, and has accepted a proposition from the South Carrollton people, where he will remove his school. South Carrollton has decided to Prof. Alexander the college and grounds at that place and given him a residence as well, and will furnish him free transportation from Hartford to that town, having chartered a steamer for the removal.

President Isaac Lewis of Sabina, Ohio, is highly respected all through that section. He has lived in Clinton Co. 75 years, and has been president of the Sabina Bank 20 years. He gladly testifies to the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and what he says is worthy attention. All brain workers find Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiarly adapted to their needs. It makes pure, rich, red blood, and from this comes nerve, mental, bodily and digestive strength.

I took many remedies, but found help only in Hood's Sarsaparilla which cured me of rheumatism, neuralgia and headache. Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved itself a true friend. I do not take Hood's Pills to purify my bowels regular, and like the pills very much." ISAAC LEWIS, Sabina, Ohio.

your doctor. The doctors approve of Scott's Emulsion. For whom? For men and women who are weak, when they should be strong; for babies and children who are thin, when they should be fat; for all who get no nourishment from their food. Poor blood is starved blood. Consumption and Scrofula never come without this starvation. And nothing is better for starved blood than cod-liver oil. Scott's Emulsion is cod-liver oil with the fish-fat taste taken out.

SCOTT'S EMULSION has been endorsed by the medical profession for twenty years. (Ask your doctor.) This is because it is always palatable—always uniform—always contains the purest Norwegian Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

Proceedings of the Alexander Sunday School.

Sunday, May 17.—By request of the Superintendent the class sang No. 10, "Will you be There." The Superintendent then read from Matthew the parable of Virgins and led the prayer. Sunday School was then opened by the class singing No. 111, "I am Walking in the Beautiful Light." J. R. Williams was absent and his class selected Mrs. Laura McKenney who heard the lesson. Miss Inez King and Mrs. J. R. Williams were again absent and their classes were again heard by Mrs. Alex Barnett. Subject of lesson—"The parable of the pounds." Golden text—"He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much, and He that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much." Topic—"God rewards men according to their faithfulness." On calling the roll the fact was disclosed that several of our officers and scholars were absent, a fact we are sorry to record and hope will not occur again. Messrs. Perry Watkins, Beaver Dam; R. P. Baird, Centertown; Bert Combes, of the Concord neighborhood, and Misses Thompson and Williams, of Hartford College, were welcome visitors.
The committee on program for Children's Day at Washington made its report, which was partially received and the matter deferred until next Sunday. The class then sang No. 179, "My Heavenly Home," and after the recitation of the beatitudes the school was dismissed to meet next Sunday at 4 p. m.

"GREATEST ON EARTH."
Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine.

Mr. R. T. Caldwell, is book-keeper in the First National Bank of Fulton, Ky. "I was completely run down. My nerves became so unstrung through loss of sleep and worry that I felt sure I would be compelled to give up my position. I would lie awake all night long, and it took but little to shake me up, so that I could not possibly attend to my business as I should. In connection with this I had liver trouble, heaviness about the stomach, and pains in different parts of my body. I was also much reduced in flesh. I was persuaded to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I first procured a trial bottle from a local druggist and good results quickly followed. I then procured a dollar bottle, and by the time I had used this up, I was a different man. I am now on my third bottle and am able to sleep soundly and eat regularly, something I could not possibly do before taking your Nervine. I am now fully recovered, and do not hesitate to pronounce Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine the greatest medicine on earth."
R. T. CALDWELL, Fulton, Ky.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1.00 a bottle for $5.00. It will be sent prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.
